Reasons for allowance

Claims 1-21 and 23-26 are allowed.

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art is exemplified by Hurt et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,954,885).

1. The Hurt et al. reference teaches an interleaver with a multi-port memory having P-ports, wherein P is greater than one. The ports may be used as read and write ports or as dedicated ports. An address generator receives an input address and generates addresses for each active port, and provides the generated addresses to address inputs of a memory unit. The address generator generates one or more control signals that direct memory to perform a write or read operation.

However, the cited Hurt et al. reference fails to teach a control circuit, coupled to the main memory and the cache memory, for comparing the size of the cache memory with a product of the data length, N and a desired interleaving/de-interleaving depth, D to produce a control signal, for writing bytes of each first word into either the main memory or the cache memory according to the control signal, for reading bytes out of the cache memory or the main memory and forming each second word according to the control signal such that each second word comprises the bytes of more than one of the first words.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
